

Sir

Please see below regarding the Royal College review at COCH – the Child O&P babies cases were, so I was told, have been part of this review.

Please advise.

Regards

Good Morning Christine

I write further to my email yesterday, Stephen has met with Ian Harvey earlier this morning and as mentioned the Neonatal Service Review has been received in the Trust. The review does advise that the Countess undertakes some internal review which will involve a secondary review of some of the cases.

The Trust would like permission from the Coroner to approach the appropriate pathologists where they have been involved with a particular death. This will enable us to be in a position to present a comprehensive review to the Coroner which we would anticipate be completed early in the new year.

It would then be helpful for Ian and Stephen to meet with the Coroner to discuss the findings of the reviews. Perhaps you could suggest some dates for the Coroner for a meeting say third week of January 2017?

Kind regards
Claire
