Subject: RCPCH Review report draft

Dear Ian

Please find attached the draft report for your review. I am still awaiting a couple of bits from the second QA reviewer but cannot see much changing substantially. Password to follow.

It does provide some fairly strong recommendations so I'd be grateful if you and Alison could have a first read through yourself and let me know anything that might be sensitive, then once you are happy perhaps you can share it with a few selected people (including I would guess Ravi, Stephen and Eirian) to check for any obvious inaccuracies or misunderstandings before we issue the final version. It needs to be helpful and achievable so the wording and style are important to get right as is the handling, of course.

it would be good to have a quick catch up anyway in the next day or so to see where you are with the other investigations, when you have a spare moment.

I have put together a chronology of all the cases gathering all that we have gleaned from various sources in the documentation received. That could be appendix 4 but it is fairly sensitive and unchecked so I will tidy and send it through - might be of use to Jane and Martin as they do the detailed reviews?

With best wishes, speak soon

Sue

Dear Ian

Thanks for your note. The report went to qa reviewers on Friday. They take up to five working days. All being well I should be able to get the draft to you next Monday or Tuesday. We are talking to Dr Nim Subhedar from the network today.

I'll try to call when I reach the office just to see how things are

Best wishes

Sue

Good morning Sue

Apologies for pestering, but I wonder whether there is a provisional date for the draft report? We, as you could imagine, coming under pressure, not least from the RCN having instituted a formal process.

Thanks

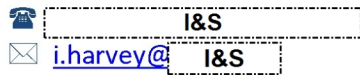

Regards

Ian Harvey
