

When to speak to the patient...

Personal Data

“When you realise that something has gone wrong, and after doing what you can to put matters right, you or someone from the healthcare team must speak to the patient and clearly document this discussion in the medical notes. The most appropriate team member will usually be the lead clinician.”

David Semple

CONSULTANT, OBSTETRICS AND GYNAECOLOGY
ASSOCIATE MEDICAL DIRECTOR FOR QUALITY & SAFETY

NHS

Countess of
Chester Hospital
NHS Foundation Trust