Dear Steve

Further to yesterday's meeting I wanted to thank you for contributing, I believe that further progress has been made.

I gather that an apology letter was forwarded to Lucy today and I would also like to thank your part in that for that. I repeat my comments of yesterday that we must separate the concerns raised and the reviews from the grievance procedure.

On a related note, please could I counsel you to make every effort to attend the preliminary meeting with the facilitator next week, the 7th March. You may have already noted but this is an initial meeting, just with the facilitator, and will enable you to address some of the issues that were called out yesterday. I think that this gesture would also go a long way to protect you from a possible referral to the GMC from other parties which, having supported many doctors who have done no wrong through, even then isn't a comfortable process.

As previously my door is open to discuss any issues

FYI – I have sent a similar email to Ravi

Regards

Ian
